Happel Pool Room Raided by Police

Proprietor Denies Ownership of Barrel of Bottled Beer Found Just Out side Rear Door but is Ordered to Appear Before Mayor

One barrel of bottled beer was confiscated by the police in a raid upon the pool room conducted by George Happel in the Bachert block, at about 7:30 o'clock Saturday night. The booze was located by the officers just outside the rear door of the place. It was stated last night that Happel denied ownership of the beer to the police and said he did not know that it was about. However, he was ordered to appear in Mayor Cassingham's court Monday morning, while the beer was loaded on a dray and taken to police headquarters.

NOT ALL "EMPTIES."

The raid was conducted by Chief Williams, Lieutenant Hankins and Officers Fretague and Miller. There was quite a crowd in the place at the time and the search created not a little excitement. After finding the barrel, the police were told that it was filled with "empties" only but it later developed that only a few on top had been drained of their contents. Although Happel carries a government license and it has been freely rumored for months that he was doing a refreshment business on the side, this is the first time that his place has been visited by the police.

J. Kleinknecht Given Contract for Keene Road

Has Finger Crushed by Heavy Bar

Wm. Swigert of North Second street was very painfully injured Saturday afternoon while helping put up a telephone pole for the Bell Telephone company.

In some manner Swigert got the index finger of his right hand caught between the pole which was being set and a crow-bar that was being used to hold it, and the member was crushed and split open to the bone. The victim was hurried to the office of Dr. Cone where the injury was dressed.

The injury was a very serious one although it is not thought that amputation will be necessary unless complications set in. Swigert will probably not be able to return to his work for quite a while as the injury is one which will heal slowly.

Grangers to Hold Meet Labor Day

Arrangements for a county grange meet to be held in the fair grounds auditorium on Labor Day, have been completed and will bring hundreds of people from the rural districts to the city that day. The central trades and labor council committee, in charge of the Labor Day celebration, will hold a meeting this afternoon at which time important details of the program will be worked out. Efforts are being made to secure Dr. Stelzle of New York, the head of the labor department of the Presbyterian church of the world, to make the principal address. In addition, the grangers will probably have one of the national officers of the organization on hand for an address.

PUT ON DEGREE WORK.

The Coshocton county grange had planned to hold its meeting at the fair grounds a week or two later, but accepted the trades council's invitation to meet with union labor on its big day. At their meeting, the grangers will put on fifth degree work by way of getting a number of candidates ready for the joint state and national meeting to be held in Columbus early in October.

Old Fashioned Picnic.

With both the grangers and union labor celebrating the day, it is planned to make it the occasion for an old fashioned picnic. There will, of course be the usual parade in the morning and a program of speeches and athletic events at the fair grounds in the afternoon. Joseph L. Myers, whose candidacy for delegate to the constitutional convention has been endorsed by both organizations is expected to deliver a campaign speech on that day.

W. H. Nosker of Coshocton, R. F. D. 7, was the guest of Coshocton friends Saturday.

Sample Just 90 Years Old on Exhibition

One of the latest fads in needlework is the old fashioned cross-stich. While the stitch is new to many of the present generation it was in every day use when the grandmothers of today's faddists were young women. There are few households that do not cherish at least one "sampler" handed down from a grandmother or great grandmother; in the Robertson millinery there is an unusually artistic piece on exhibition. The sampler was made ninety years ago, in 1821, by Mrs. James Robertson and is the prized possession of her grand daughter, Mrs. Zed Harrington.

Sprains His Hand in Fall from Wagon

While taking several foreigners, who arrived in the city on Pennsylvania train No. 3, to Clowville, Saturday evening, Jenkin West, a drayman who resides on John street, sustained a badly sprained hand in an odd accident.

One of the "hunkies" was pretty well "sousd" with the stuff that cheers and as West's horse took a sudden turn at Pleasant Valley, he lost his balance and fell from the seat. In his fall, the foreigner took the driver with him, the latter striking the ground with his passenger on top. West's hand was twisted under him in such a manner that the member was sprained. A physician gave the injury medical attendance.

Walters Sells to Frymute

Clyde Walters, who has been running the barber shop in the basement of the Selby block, has sold the establishment to Harry Frymute. Mr. Walters has run this well known stand for something more than a year, but has been compelled to dispose of his business on account of ill health.

He has not yet decided what line of work he will follow. He has several good offers, one of which is a traveling position for a barber supply house. He is one of the most popular barbers in the city and later may again go into business here or in Zanesville.

Mr. Frymute is one of the best journeyman barbers in the city and the news of his new venture will be a source of gratification to his many friends here. The transfer becomes effective August 1.

BOOTLEGGER PLIES TRADE IN COURT HOUSE BASEMENT

Seeing some suspicious appearing parties enter the place several times, Janitor Perry Pigman made an investigation and found four pint and five half-pint whiskey bottles and two beer bottles, which were evidently emptied by some whiskey customers.

O. P. Wright Attacked by Two Men on South Seventh St. at Early Hour Saturday Morning--Victim Relieved of $18 After Being Beaten into Insensibility

O. P. ("Red") Wright, employed as a clerk at the Happel pool room, was set upon by two holdup men near the corner of Seventh and Poplar streets at an early hour Saturday morning and after being beaten into insensibility, was robbed of his money, consisting of about $18. He lay helpless in the street for about 20 minutes and when he regained consciousness, his assailants had fled. The matter was reported to the police but owing to the darkness of the spot where the assault was made, Wright was unable to furnish the officers with a good description.

PUTS UP STIFF FIGHT.

Wright was on his way home from down town at about 2 a. m. and was walking along the street near the Christian church. Suddenly a man sprang out from the shadows and without any warning threw Wright to the ground. The latter put up a stiff fight and was getting the better of his assailant, when another man joined in the fracas. The second man struck Wright over the head with what is thought to have been a black-jack and put him out. He then searched his clothes for when the victim came to he found that his money was gone. Wright was about Saturday, but carries a bad wound on the head, as well as many scratches and bruises about the body as evidence of the struggle.

Mr. and Mrs. Phillips had driven to the home of the son, Wilbur Phillips, on Conesville Route 2, and had turned the horse out in a pasture. # DEALERS MUST PAY ALL OF AIKIN TAX; ALSO THE PENALTY

Judge S. H. Nicholas Dissolves Injunction

Decision Calls Halt Upon Practice of Refunding Portion of Liquor Tax Assessment in "Dry" Territory by County Officials--Now up to State Officials

Not only did Judge S. H. Nicholas, in his decision handed down Saturday, dissolve the temporary injunction against the payment of the entire penalty on the Aikin tax, assessed against eight local dealers, but he decided that County Auditor Mowrey had no authority, under the law, to refund any of the tax, regardless of whether or not these same dealers agree to quit business. If any refunder of the tax is to be made, the dealers must appeal to the state auditor and the state dairy and food commissioner. The amount of tax and penalty, assessed in each case, is almost $1,100. Attorney Jos. L. McDowell, counsel for the eight dealers, was not in the city Saturday, but it is understood that the cases will be carried to circuit court. The appeal bonds were fixed at $1,250.

DEALERS SURPRISED.

The decision came as a surprise to the dealers there being no question with them as to their receiving the refunder on the Aikin tax. The only question brought up in the injunction suits was on the amount of the penalty that was to be paid, the dealers holding that they were entitled to a rebate on this same penalty, upon their promise to the county auditor that they had closed shop for good. Judge Nicholas bases his decision as to refunder on the tax on the argument that the law applies only to "wet" territory, where a saloon is a legal institution. As to the penalty, the court held that it is a punishment for not providing oneself with a license before going into business and cannot be refunded, either in whole or in part.

Decision, in Part.

Section 6091 provides that the auditor of state with the consent and approval of the food and dairy commissioner may correct any errors or remit any such assessments together with the penalties thereon, if it is found to have been erroneously or illegally certified. As it is conceded by counsel on both sides that they were placed there by the county auditor on the warrant of the auditor of state on information from the food and dairy commissioner's office I feel no hesitancy in saying that the auditor of the county followed his manifest statutory duty that the treasurer is in duty bound to collect the full amount of the assessments with the penalties and that if the plaintiffs have any remedy it is with the auditor of state and the food and dairy commissioners.

THE WEATHER

FOR OHIO: Fair Sunday; Monday unsettled.

Exception Taken to Hogan Opinion

The general opinion among Coshocton bankers and building and loan association officials seems to be that Attorney General Hogan has placed too wide an interpretation on the law for listing the deposits of banks and loan companies for taxation. The item, giving the attorney general's decision, which appeared in Saturday's Tribune, started a discussion of the matter in local banking circles.

BANKS WOULD RESIST.

"While I don't believe any of the banks of the state anticipate a demand from county auditors to examine their books, the matter was freely discussed at the recent convention at Cedar Point," said a [illegible] banker last evening. "And should such a demand be made" he continued "the bankers association can be depended upon to fight the matter through all the courts. I cannot see where there is any justice in either a bank or loan company being compelled to open their books for it would certainly play havoc with the banking business."

Take No Alarm.

An editorial in Saturday's State Journal on the same subject is given as follows:

The opinion rendered by Attorney General Hogan in regard to the right of the tax commisison to go into details

Denies Berry Charge

Father Odenbach Denies He Received Any Money From the Government.

Cleveland, O., July 21 Positive denial was made by Father F. L. Odenbach of St Ignatius college that he has ever received any money from the government through Professor Willis L. Moore of the weather bureau for special seismographical observations, as charged by James Berry, former employe of the weather bureau department at Washington

Berry, who was the chief of the disbursing department of the weather bureau but who resigned, charged that his former chief had made unauthorized payments to Father Odenbach in the same manner that Dr Wiley is alleged to have paid for expert assistance

The charges have been sent by Attorney General Wickersham to the department of agriculture without comment Father Odenbach declared that the only offer of payment he ever received from the government was made last May, when Professor Moore offered to pay six of the 17 observation stations mentioned by the Jesuit father under his jurisdiction $300 a year for seismographical observations.

The offer was refused Father Odenbach declares, and the Jesuit colleges since have continued as in the past, to give what assistance they could free of charge.

WOULD AWAIT SECOND SOLOMON

New York, July 21 Supreme Court Justice Crane declared that the courts would have to await the coming of a second Solomon to be able to decide correctly how to adjust the affairs between young couples who can not and will not get along together. The comment was made in connection with the suit for separation brought by Mrs Minnie M Dobson against J. Melville Dodson of Bay Shore L. I. Justice Crane granted Mrs Dodson a temporary decree to be in effect for one year "Possibly during that time," the court says, "the wife may have visions of good qualities in her husband that she has heretofore overlooked and by granting a brief separation the best results may be served"

Pretty Girls in Blackmail Plot

Pittsburg July 21 Detectives are working on what is believed to be the most gigantic case of blackmailing by an organized gang of pretty girls in the history of the country.

Scores of the wealthiest and most prominent men in Pittsburg—men in all walks of life—are said to be the victims.

The police are informed that over $120,000 in hush money has been paid out to the adventuresses. One of the victims asserted that to say that a half million had been paid is making it lightly.

An instance was brought out during the hearing before a board of arbitration of a suit against the Coraopolis National bank. It was testified that a woman had secured the huge sum of $8,500 to settle a case. Other names were linked with the highly sensational story, and then, when the inkling of the blackmailing conspiracy suddenly had been fanned into a storm, desperate attempts were made to draw the curtain and prevent the scandal from becoming public.

The women blackmailers are said to have made a practice of getting the names of men of prominence, prospective victims, and then by some means scrape up an acquaintance with them. The men are fed enticing bait and in the human angling that ensues they are led from one step to another until the progress of legal intimacy slowly but surely approaches the point where illegality predominates.

When the first news leaked out at the McKechnie hearing, sensational developments heaped one upon another, forging a chain of evidence that names an astonishing number of prominent and respected Pittsburgers the company) at the true value thereof in money, on the day preceding the second Monday in April of each year, and they shall be assessed at such valuation for taxation and taxed as other property. Such shares are held to be credits. Shares upon which loans have been advanced are exempt from taxation.

Getting True Value

The rule for determining the true value in money of the shares of the B. & L. associations is found in Section 9651, which provides that upon withdrawal the shareholder

"Shall be entitled to receive all dues paid in and dividends declared thereon, less all fines or other assessments and less the pro rata share of all losses, if any have occurred."

Property of Company.

B. & L. associations should make returns as other incorporated companies to the county auditor, which returns may be reviewed by the proper board of revision.

The property of a B. & L. association which is taxable and should be returned along with its other personal property is its reserve fund and undivided profit fund, whether called by such or other names.

Reserve Fund.

Section 9659 authorizes B. & L. associations "to accumulate from the earnings a 'reserve fund' for the payment of contingent losses and an 'undivided profit fund,' both of which may be loaned."

Section 9671 provides that this "reserve fund" shall be made up of at least five per cent. of the net earnings until the fund amounts to five per cent. of the total assets, and when it falls below such five per cent it shall be replenished.

Inasmuch as a withdrawing shareholder may not receive any portion of this "reserve fund" or "undivided profit fund," the same cannot be taken into consideration by him in fixing the true value of his stock in money, and is, therefore, not included in the taxation reports of the shareholders. Such, however, are assets in the hands of the B. & L. association and should be taxed in the name of the association.

Also a Depositor.

B. & L. associations are authorized to receive deposits and pay interest thereon, and a person who makes a deposit of money with a B. & L. association, upon which he receives interest, is a depositor and not a shareholder, and he should make return of the same for taxation in his own name.

The girls, whose ages range from 14 to 17, are charged with cruelty to animals. They are Misses Eunice Scott, Alice Harm, Dora Danford, Nell Cardwell, Hazel Burton and Myrtle Hogue.

St. Louis Cardinals' Young Pitcher Who Threatens to Take Away Matty's Crown this Season

BOB HARMON

St. Louis, July 22.—Bob Harmon, the Cardinals' young twirler, threatens to take the National league pitching crown away from Christy Mathewson this season. For years Mathewson and Three Fingered Brown of Chicago have shared the twirling honors. One year Matty would be on top, and the next one would find the three fingered boy leading the pitchers in the older organization. Camnitz of Pittsburg broke up the combination by giving Matty a terrific fight for the leadership in 1909. Last year Brown cracked and Camnitz went to the bad, and Matty had the field to himself. This year he started out with the avowed purpose of winning forty games of ball for the New York club. He might have accomplished the task, but the league race became close, and then Harmon shied his castor in the arena and challenged Matty to do combat for the pitching championship. Since the start of the 1911 campaign Harmon has twirled brilliant ball. In a large measure the success of the Cardinals is due to the fine pitching of Harmon. He has won fourteen out of the first nineteen games twirled, which gives him a better percentage than Matthewson and places him among the three leading pitchers in the league.

BUCKEYES WIN FROM FAST BUFFALO TEAM

Larcombe's fast going Buckeyes were victorious in their first game on the present trip, by winning Saturday's game at Buffalo by a score of 6 to 3.

Buffalo's team had been strengthened by the addition of several star players of two neighboring towns, but in spite of this they tasted defeat.

The game was a well played one in all departments and it was the hard and timely hitting of the locals that won for them. Sondles led at the bat with two smashing doubles to his credit, while a one-handed catch by Duffy in center was the fielding feature of the contest.

Davis who started to pitch for the locals was touched up rather lively and gave way to Church, who pitched out the game in good style. This afternoon the Buckeyes will hook up with the fast Byesville team at that place and they will attempt of get back at the Guernsey county lads for the hard luck defeat which they suffered at their hands early in the season. The score:

|---|---|---|---|
| Buckeyes | 6 | 10 | 2 |
| Buffalo | 3 | 7 | 3 |

Batteries; Davis, Church and Thompson; Simpson and Johnson.

CONESVILLE AGAIN DEFEATED BY SENTERS

Conesville again met defeat at the hands of the Coshocton Senters, this time in a well played game to the tune of 6 to5. Sondles who was in the box for the locals pitched good ball, but his infield gave him rather poor support at times. He allowed the visitors but seven hits and causes 14 of their husky hitters to whiff the ozone. The Senters also had their troubles with Miller the visiting twirler for eleven of them went out by the strike-out route. Eight hits were secured off Miller. The teams lined up as follows:

Senters—Walker lf., R. Bordendircher ss, W. Bordenkircher 2b., Souldes, p., Todd 1b, Clark mf. Fett c, Berry 3b, Holsky rf.

The Senters will probably play at Canal Lewisville next Saturday.

Standard Oil Company to Split into Thirty-five Companies

New York, July 22. — One of the principal officers of the Standard Oil company set at rest the rumors which have been going about Wall street since last May that the corporation would find a way to reorganize within the law. The Standard Oil company will not be reorganized. It will be split up into 35 smaller companies and each stockholder in the major corporation will get his proportionate share in each of them.

"There is no scheme of reorganization being considered," said the Standard Oil officer. "We are going to do exactly what the supreme court told us to do, and that is, to divide up. We will distribute our stock in 35 companies to each holder of stock in the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey. As a matter of fact, that is all we can do and still act within the decision of the supreme court."

TWO KINGS.

We have separated church and state, and wisely so. There should be, there can be, no separation betwen religion and government. This fact is brought out vividly in Rev. Mr. Bridge's comment on today's Sunday school lesson.

Both the church and the state are instruments devised by men to perform certain definite functions. That these functions can be best performed when each works separate from the other has been proved repeatedly in the march of history.

But the respective reigns of Manasseh and his grandson, Josiah, show that the underlying principles of religion must underlie every government that is striving to perpetuate itself. High-minded rulers must surround themselves with high-minded associates.

In contrasting the reign of Josiah with that of the recently deposed King Manuel of Portugal, the exposition of the lesson in yesterday's paper well says: "Back of reform is religion. Manuel sought after women and pleasure; Josiah sought after God and duty."

Josiah, like Manuel, began his reign when only a boy. He lived out a long and useful career. His people prospered materially and they honored him. Manuel, it is said, started out with high motives and a desire to administer his office to the benefit of his people.

But he fell a prey to bad counsellors and worse women. His infatuation for an actress led him away from the path of duty and made him forget the great responsibilities Providence imposed on him. It is ever so. The state may get along without the church, but it cannot get along without a blending of the fundamental moralities in the administration of public affairs. The world needs its Josiahs. Its Manuels are its burdens.

THE LIQUOR CASES.

The Tribune is not in a position to know whether the decision of Judge Nicholas assessing the full amount of the Aiken tax and penalty on the eight saloon keepers was good law or not. It can at least be said of this decision that it is good common sense.

The Aiken tax provides the payment of $1,000 annually by saloon keepers. There is little doubt in the minds of those in a position to know that most of these men, or all of them, have been in the business for the full period of one year, or longer.

As Judge Nicholas pertinently states these men were certified to the county auditor on the warrant of the state auditor and on information filed with him by the state dairy and food commissioner's office. If the certification was [illegible] erroneous or illegal the men so certified have their remedy through these same state officials or [illegible] of the proper courts.

It is manifestly not the duty of [illegible] local officials to correct such alleged error. Their [illegible] the transaction ends with the fulfillment of the duty imposed on them by the proper state officers. As the judge says "[illegible] the county followed his [illegible] and the county treasurer is in duty bound to collect the full amount of the taxes together with the penalties. And in [illegible] have any remedy [illegible] the auditor of state and the food and dairy commissioner."

[illegible] that Judge Nicholas has not only adopted the [illegible] is fortified by sound reasoning [illegible]. There is [illegible] the penalty assessed [illegible] the penalty is [illegible] governed by [illegible] business. As the judge [illegible] assessment and under no circumstances [illegible] to be returned.

How far the word of these men would go as to the length of time they have been engaged in business is an open proposition. The fact that they have [illegible] engaging for any length of time in a business which [illegible] under the statutes would not [illegible] on this point.

At [illegible] Judge Nicholas is to be [illegible] conclusion [illegible] they have been engaged [illegible] much more than a year. In several of these cases there should be competent court records to prove that such a traffic has been conducted for periods extending much further back than one year. It is to be hoped that the dissolution of the injunction by Judge Nicholas and the reasons he has assigned for so doing will meet the approval of the circuit, or any higher court, to which these cases may be appealed.

Mrs. Jane Dickey Called to Reward

After an illness of several months' duration Mrs. Jane Dickey died at her home near Keene yesterday just after noon. Mrs. Dickey suffered a stroke of paralysis on New Year's day and since that time she has gradually failed in health and at several different times has suffered slight strokes; for the past four days preceding her death she was in an unconscious condition and the friends and family understood that her passing was but a matter of a short time.

Jane Dickey was the widow of Hiram Dickey, who died twenty years ago. The family is well known and highly respected in the Keene vicinity where they have so long resided. Mrs. Dickey was in her eightieth year at the time of her death, but up until the past few months she was possessed of capabilities which were indeed wonderful for one of her age. She was a kind neighbor and a loyal friend and the news of her death will be heard with regret throughout the county.

In addition to the son in this city, W. H. Dickey, two other sons—John and Charles—with whom the mother made her home, also survive.

The funeral service will be held at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning from St. Mark's Episcopal church, Rev. Albus, of Coshocton, in charge.

EXCEPTION TAKEN

regarding the accounts of depositors in national and state banks and building and loan associations was not viewed with much alarm yesterday by either officers or depositors in local banks.

An exactly similar opinion was rendered several years ago to the auditor of state, and the bank deposits remained undisturbed. In fact, the law as laid down in the opinion does not give the tax commission any blanket powers, and does not authorize any opening of the books of a bank for a general overhauling. The commission cannot demand that a financial institution turn over its books or a list of its depositors, with the amounts they may have on deposit, but in case it has knowledge that an individual depositor had failed to return money which he has on deposit, the bank may be required to give the amount which such a depositor has in its custody.

This has always been the law, and no depositor in a national or state bank or building and loan association need fear that his institution will have to transcribe, for the use of the taxing officers, its individual ledger. The taxing officers will have to take up individual cases and have some knowledge that some one is dodging taxes, but will not be allowed to go on a general fishing expedition into the financial institutions of the state. In case the latter course could be taken, it is probable that by the next tax listing day every dollar of deposits in Ohio financial institutions would either be in a stocking a hole in the ground or in some bank outside the state.

The Orioles Lose Out to Newcomers

The Orioles were again defeated by the fast team from Newcomerstown Saturday by a score of 7 to 2. Donley, who caught for the locals was the heavy man at the bat securing three of the six home run by Crouch, who plays centerfield for Newcomerstown when he is not playing with the Buckeyes, scored a home run.

The score:

| Orioles | 2 | 6 | 8 |

Suspended Sentence for Strauss

A sentence of ten years in the penitentiary, which was suspended, pending his good behavior, was given Charles Strauss by Judge Nicholas in common pleas court Saturday. The charge against Strauss was shooting at Logan Gill with intent to kill several years ago. He was indicted by the grand jury but when he appeared before the court, Judge Nicholas offered him a chance to lead a straighter life and placed him on parole. Shortly thereafter the young man again got into trouble whereupon he left the city and state. Several months ago he was arrested in St. Louis and brought back to Coshocton to answer to the original charge.

The suspended sentence gives Strauss another chance and according to the court, his last one to lead an upright life. The conditions imposed upon him are that he must refrain from the use of intoxicants, abandon his evil companions and violate no law.

AN INCIDENT IN "MOTHER LAKE'S" MANY TRAVELS

A few years ago Mrs. Leonora M. Lake, often referred to as "Mother" Lake, was trying to make the people of one of our Western states see certain rules of life as she saw them. This work necessitated one-night stands, with the usual heart-breaking, nerve-racking, train-catching, connection-making labor of the day. For several days a commercial traveler seemed destined to get out of the town same time and same train as she did, make the same changes, and stop at the same place. It was winter. Mrs. Lake wore the ordinary dress, coat and hat of the woman wage earner, her only luggage a fair sized Galdstone dressing bag.

She noticed after a day or two that the traveler was eyeing her and fancied that he had sized her up as an intruder in his field of business. One evening, however, upon stepping upon the platform to speak, the first person Mrs. Lake's eye rested upon was the aforesaid traveler in a front seat.

Mrs. Lake's platform dress was a black Duchesse satin which, though quite long, folded into small compass and fitted nicely in her dressing bag.

Next morning, leaving the town quite early, the first man she saw at the station was the commercial traveler. Both boarded the same train in different cars. Soon after leaving the station he came into the car in which she sat, stopped at her seat, doffed his hat and said, "I was at your lecture last night."

She replied: "Indeed; I hope you were pleased?"

Fancying she was to receive a compliment or listen to a critisism, his reply to her query was startling.

"Madam," he said, "I hope you will pardon me, but would you mind telling me where you carry that dress you wore on the platform last night?"

Her first impluse was one of resentment, but looking at the man she realized that he meant no disrespect and was very much in earnest, so opened her dressing bag and pointed to the dress as it lay folded therein. His face was a study as he exclaimed:

"By thunder, I've gone around on the same train with you for a week or two, she has a big trunk or telescope, and when I saw that dress on you last night it took my breath away. When my wife goes to visit her mother for a week or two, she has a big trung besides the bag."

With this explanation he turned and walked away, leaving "Mother" Lake to wonder if Mother Eve's sons did not inherit some of her curiosity as well as her daughters.

(Mother Lake will be at Coshocton Chautauqua August 13th to talk to our people about "The Divine Rights of the Child."

BRYAN IS OPENLY AGAINST HARMON

Nichols Already Sees Ohio's Governor In the White House.

Washington, July 22.—Democratic members of congress in both senate and house now express the conviction that the entire anti-Bryan strength in the next Democratic national convention will center around Governor Harmon.

Following his two latest snubs of Governor Harmon, Bryan has now opened his batteries direct and assails the Ohio executive by name. He has abondoned inference for a straightout fight against the governor. Democrats here were angered by the explanation given by Bryan for the action of the Douglas county, Nebraska, Democratic convention in indorsing the Ohio governor. Bryan charges the Omaha brewers with having inspired the Harmon indorsement. Members of the Ohio congressional delegation say that will be highly interesting to the Ohio brewers, in view of the outcome of the fight before the Ohio assembly to repeal the local option law.

In concluding, Bryan charges Governor Harmon with bolting him in the 1896 campaign. The closest friends Bryan has had, including Ollie James of Kentucky, winner of the recent United States senatorial primary contest in that state, are deploring the course of the thrice defeated presidential candidate. Following the blast as Bryan for what he termed his "meddling," Senator Bailey of Texas has declared openly for Harmon for the nomination.

Lieutenant Governor Hugh Nichols, managing the Harmon campaign, reached Washington after a swing through the New England states. He will remain several days. Nichols, enthusiastic, sees Governor Harmon in the White House already. He came here direct from Maine and says the Maine delegation will be for Harmon. Nichols sees nothing significant, he says, in the action this week of the rival Democratic factions in Pennsylvania indorsing Governor Wilson of New Jersey. He suspects, he says, the indorsement was engineered by Republican organization influences through control of the Democratic organization. Harmon, he says, will have the bulk if not all the Pennsylvania convention delegates.

FINED FOR CONTEMPT

Woman Failed to Appear When Sued by Millinery Company.

New York, July 21.—Mrs. Mary Denning of the Plaza hotel, who had her marriage to Stuart Denning, a broker, annulled a year ago on the ground that a divorce her first husband, Pedei Brugiere of San Francisco, obtained in 1905 was invalid was fined $250 by City Court Justice Schmuck for failure to appear in supplementary proceedings on a judgment for $2,110 obtained by the Lichtenstein Millinery company. The court directed her to pay the fine in 30 days or be committed to jail

The papers in the case showed that the order for her examination was served on Mrs. Denning at the Plaza hotel on June 21, when she was ill in bed of ptomaine poisoning. On the date of the examination it was postponed for a week because she was too ill to appear, and on the adjourned date Mrs. Denning did not respond. The motion to punish Mrs. Denning for contempt was then made, and in her defense her counsel said that because of the heated spell her physicians had ordered her out of the city.

Justice Schmuck said that if this excuse had been made the day Mrs. Denning should have been in court it would have procured a further adjournment, but it could not be accepted now.

WILEY PROBE NEXT WEEK

Committee Completes Preliminary Arrangements.

Washington, July 21—The house committee on expenditures of the agricultural department decided not to inaugurate its inquiry into the rumpus of which Dr. Harvey Wiley, the government food expert, is the storm center, until some time next week.

Officers of the department of agriculture have assured the committee that the complete information called for yesterday with respect to the work of the Romsen board of experts and the cost of the board can be supplied within a week and unless the papers asked for last week in connection with the charges against Dr. Wiley, which are now in the hands of the president are received first, the committee will make its first inquiry into the activities of the Remsen board.

Representative Ralph Moss of Indiana, chairman of the committee on exependitures in the agricultural department said today that the Wiley case and the subject of the Remsen board were so closely connected that in his opinion it made little difference from which angle the committee began its investigation.

The two lines of inquiry will converge anyhow. The committee has decided upon the matter in which the inquiry will be conducted and upon the witnesses who will be called and is simply waiting now to receive the official record for which it has asked.

WOMAN'S BODY FOUND IN RIVER

Gallipolis, Ohio., July 22.—The nude body of Miss Mary Priddy, 60, was found near the government light at the foot of Knob Shoals on Great Kanawha river, 20 miles east of here, partially burned. # THREE GIRLS ARE DROWNED

Dowagiac, Mich., July 22.—Three young girls, daughters of prominent families drowned in Dewey lake, nine miles northeast of here. Miss Helen Wooster, 17; Miss Gladys Gould, 17 and Lois Gould, 15, were victims. The girls while wading in the lake suddenly stepped into a deep hole and sank, before assistance could reach them. Their bodies were recovered.

His Athletic Neighbor.

A young man inmate of a boarding house had been disturbed night after night by the boarder in the next room doing things with a punching bag he'd rigged up in the room some way. At breakfast each morning the young man would look over the crowd and wonder who the bag puncher might be, but there was no one in sight but a bunch of women and eight or ten men with narrow chests and retreating chins. One night he made up his mind to knock on the bag punching roomer's door and ask him to put over his exercise until daylight when all the world's awake. The man might be small enough to bulldoze even with all his athletics. The door opened and there, clad in a tight fitting red jersey, was a robust, buxom woman of perhaps thirty summers

"And what did you say to her?" the young man was asked.

"I was so startled," replied he, "that I asked what afterward seemed to me the most natural request I could have made. I asked her if she'd lend me a couple of matches."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

The Persistency of Colds.

Why is it that we are so heavily subject to colds? Other epidemic diseases—measles, typhoid, scarlet fever, diphtheria—may get hold on us once and there is an end; it is not usual to have any of them twice. We brew in our blood immunity. The poison of the disease evokes in us its proper antidote. Our blood cells make a sort of natural antitoxin and keep it in stock, so that we are henceforth protected against the disease. A well vaccinated nurse, for example, works with safety in a smallpox hospital, where the very air is infective, but her blood is so changed by vaccination that the smallpox cannot affect her. By scarlet fever, again, we are, as it were, vaccinated against scarlet fever. The reaction of our blood against the disease immunizes us. No such result follows influenza or a common cold. We brew nothing that is permanent. We are just as susceptible to a later invasion as we were to the invasion that is just over.—London Spectator.

DRINKS PINT OF MOONSHINE

Nine-Year-Old Boy Swallows Contents of Bottle.

Colubus, O. July 22.- James Jones, aged 9, drank a pint of Kentucky moonshine whisky, and lives to tell the tale A relative from Kentucky came to visit the Jones family and brought with him a pint of moonshine as a curiosity. The bottle was placed on the sideboard and forgotten While the family was in another part of the house, nine-year-old James decided to taste the contents of the curious bottle. He pulled out the cork, and proceeded to swallow the entire pint of the fiery liquid. Stimach pumps were applied and a large amount of "mountain dew" was withdrawn and little James felt better.

The Harm of Damp Houses.

It is dangerous to health and even to life in a damp, moldy house or one built over a moldy cellar. Many years ago the London Lancet in an article on diphtheria traced the disease in certain cases to the presence of certain molds and fungoid growths which seemed to be breathed into the throat. Remember, one of the best disinfectants is lime. Moldy cloths, such as shoes and other articles that are unfit for use, should be destroyed at once.

Why He Applauded.

Another Affinity

Brown Eyed English Girl Spots Susceptible Heart of Artist Earle.

New York, July 22.—The liquid brown eyes of a beautiful English girl have caused the susceptible heart of Ferdinand Pinney Earle, the American artist, who holds the world's undisputed affinity record, again to succumb to the little blind god and he's married once more.

The heroine of this latest romance in the career of the bewhiskered artist is named Dora and she is the daughter of an eminent architect at Workingham, Berkshire, England. That's about all that is known of her on this side of the water, so far.

Artist Earle, in apprising his fellow intimates here that he had gone and got married again, confined his information to somewhat sweeping generalizations. He speaks of his bride simply as "Dora, the dearest, sweetest loveliest of them all."

He met her in Surrey, Eng., while taking a walk, he states, and identified her on the spot as affinity No 3. Apparently she accepted the identification for shortly afterward they were married and Dora became the latest successor of Emilie Fischbacher Earle and Julia Kuttner Earle, respectively wives No. 1 and No 2

Earle and his bride are now in Germany on an around-the-world honeymoon trip. They do not expect to reach America for a year and a half.

The Hat Straw Crop.

The greater part of the straw employed for making summer hats comes from Italy. To obtain a suitable straw for this purpose the wheat is sown as thickly as possible in order that the growth of the plant may be impoverished as well as to produce a thin stalk. The Italian wheat blooms at the beginning of June and is pulled up by hand by the roots when the grain is half developed. Should it be allowed to remain in the ground a longer time the straw would become too brittle for the purpose for which it is grown. Uprooted straws to the number of about five dozen, the size of the compass of the two hands, are firmly tied together in little sheaves and stowed away in barns. After that the straw is again spread out to catch the heavy summer dews and to bleach in the sun. When the product has been sufficiently bleached it is put into small bundles and classified. The last step is to cut it close above the first joint from the top, when it is again tied up in small bundles containing about sixty stalks each and is then ready for the market. —Harper's Weekly.

The Languages of Paradise

Every language has its admirers. In "Lucile" the author, Owen Meredith, maintained that when he heard French spoken as he approved he "found himself quietly falling in love." Edward Hutton is another instance of this lingual fascination. In stating his preference in his enchanting "Cities of Spain" he recalls an interesting mediaeval legend. He says:

"And as I listened to the splendid syllables of the Castilian tongue that rang eloquently through the twilight I remembered the saying of that old Spanish doctor of whom James Howell tells us in his 'Instructions For Forraine Travell'—to wit, that Spanish, Italian and French, these three daughters of the Latin language, were spoken in paradise; that God Almighty created the world in Spanish, the tempter persuaded Eve in Italian and Adam begged pardon in French"

Inspired to Write

William Allan White Postpones Political Speech One Month.

Denver, July 22.—In the minds of most persons there is no more connection between the writing of a novel and a political meeting than between cabbages and kings but William Allan White of Emporia, Kan., has succeeded in uniting the two diverse subjects in an unusual manner. He was to have been the chief speaker at a meeting of insurgent Republicans of Colorado scheduled for today at Montrose

The promoters had not figured on that something called genius. Neither had William Allan White when he promised to orate. It took hold of the fair-haired Kansas at Estes Park, Colo., without warning, and at this time he finds himself in the middle of a novel.

"We can't have the meeting without White" said the insurgents

"I can write only when I can write and can't write at any other time I have to be inspired" said White, "and I can't drop the book until it is finished."

For that reason the gathering has been postponed until Aug 22, by which time it is expected that Mr. White will have put his story on paper.

Q.—Is there such a thing as a "ghost"?

Answer.—The word "ghost" as generally used, is understood by many to mean some kind of an apparition or supposed manifestation of a spirit being—a phantom. Thus, when our Lord had risen from the dead and appeared in the midst of the disciples while the door was shut, they supposed that they had seen a phantom, something intangible. Our Lord corrected their error by telling them that spirit-beings had not flesh and bones, as they saw He had. Our Lord was indeed a spirit being after His resurrection; but He materialized for the sake of instructing His Apostles, who were to be His witnesses, not only of His life and death, but also of His resurrection.

In times past, angels have appeared to men, but not as ghosts. As Jesus, as a spirit Being after His resurrection, appeared in various forms—as a gardener, as a stranger and in a body similar to that in which He was crucified—so angels have exercised this power to appear like men. For instance, the three who came to Abraham, as recorded in Genesis xviii. 1-8. They also ate, drank and talked. At first the fallen angels had this power, but were deprived of it according to the Scriptures—"delivered into chains of darkness" (II Peter ii. 4). The Bible gives intimation that in the close of the Gospel Age these evil spirits will regain their power to materialize and represent themselves as men. They will have the power to appear and reappear, but not as ghosts in the sense of apparitions.
